Despite the fact that government is supporting in all cadres, still the institutions are not been in position to evaluate it fully and expose the general public to the multi-dimensional benefits of IT.

The present revolution of technology-driven society has mandated the use of technology in all walks of life for a sustainable development, Technology education evolved through craft, or technical skills education from Industrial Arts and Manual Training and it is geared towards allowing learners explore a variety of activities related to many areas of human endeavor. We are introducing B2B and B2C because they helps to make them think big become visionary and will see all aspects of information technology as an opportunity for creating or enhancing new/existing IT infrastructure that all organizations use, with the possibility of changing the future of the information age.

The promotion of IT in Pakistan and the promotion of E-Commerce specially B2B and B2C in Pakistan in order to expose the attainable benefits to the general public. As a economic trigger it will promote entrepreneurs to get maximum out of the available IT tools and will provide employment opportunities to those who are deprived from this use of the IT tool (E-Commerce) in the absence of such awareness.

Information is the backbone of every system. All our major networks can easily be connected with the help of IT. It has made our lives simpler. Take an example through online services with the help of debit and credit cards we can buy anything online and transact money from any part of the world with the help of e-commerce. Nowadays if we want to buy something, simply through online shopping we can place an order and we will get it delivered at our doorstep. Even people start their online business with the IT advancement. Computers are now the basic infrastructure tool for the promotion of IT in Pakistan.
